Free Treatment Against Spanish Flu

Will Begin on Sunday; Extends Over Monday

War Chest Room Fitted Up To Give Service To The People

RED CROSS PAYS EXPENSE

Through the efforts of Major Edwin McKay, of the Medical Corps, United States Army, now in temporary charge of the local emergency hospital, Major E. K. Dunham of the Surgeon General's Department, Washington, D. C., arrived in Charleroi this morning, to take charge of a preventive campaign against the further spread of the Spanish influenza in this community.

In this campaign the Charleroi Chapter of the American Red Cross will take part and will use whatever of their resources are necessary in order to give the people of this locality the benefit of Major Dunham's experience and themeans he has adopted for checking this malady.

The feature of this campaign will be a spray, by means of which the nose and throts of people will be sprayed with a solution chemically known as Dinilaramine-T which is a preventive against the influenza. This treatment is not for sick people, or those sufferinf from the malady, but is recommended for those who have not been attacked by the disease. This preparation has been used with splendid results in a number of cantonments in the south, among them Camp McClellan, at Anniston, where Major McKay was stationed, and who had opportunity to observe the results of this treatment. Wherever used it is said to have been a splendid shield against the "flu," and has prevented its further spread in the localities in which it was adopted.

This treatment is to be given to the public of Charleroi free of all charges. Appliances for administering this spray will be installed this afternoon in the War Chest Room, Stahlman building, Fifth street, and the hours during which it will be open to the public are 9 to 11 a. m. and 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. and will open again at 7 p. m. Sunday and Monday. Eight patients can be taken care of at one time and with the arrangements to be installed one thousand people can be taken care of each hour. The application takes but a few seconds and at no discomfort to the one receiving it. Major Dunham will install and oversee the workings of the apparatus over Sunday, after which time it can be looked after by local people.

The opportunity thus afforded to the people of Charleroi is an exceptional one, this being the only locality so far as is known, in this state to receive this consideration. It is given absolutely free, that our people may be protected against the ravages of the influenza, which has exacted such a heavy toll of lives in this section of the valley. The Red Cross Chapter is paying the expense of installation and for supplies, and it urges every citizen who can make the necessary arrangements to report either on Sunday or Monday at the hours specified to receive an application of this spray. It is the intention of the Red Cross to make this a permanent feature of local service, or at least as long as there is any danger from the influenza.

Major Dunham has traveled very extensively visiting the various cantonments in the United States in introducing this treatment, and after he leaves Charleroi is under orders to proceed to Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., on the same mission. We are indeed fortunate in having him come here and the citizens of the community are indebted to Major McKay for the opportunity of having the advantage of his experience and benefit of this treatment.

Remember the hours, 9 to 11 a. m. 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. and an evening session beginning at 7 p. m., both Sunday and Monday.

Asks Merchants To Make Special Display

The United States Food Administration through Howard Heinz, state food administrators, has issued an appeal to the merchants of the state to make a special display during Thanksgiving week, which reads as follows:

To the Merchants of Pennsylvania:

The Food Administration at Washington has requested all retail merchants of the country to devote a window to the needs of Food Conservation for the week of November 21 to 28 ending with Thanksgiving Day. We hope that you will do this to help the Government. Even though the fighting is done, our Nation is pledged to send 17,500,000 tons of food stuffs across the seas. Mr. Hoover has gone abroad and when he learns conditions in the countries which have become accessible through peace, we may expect him to call for still larger amounts of foods.

You will realize that our people having fairly large crops and with the war won, may relax on their efforts to save food, unless we keep the true situation before them. Will you help in this just as you helped to win the war? This is no less a patriotic duty.

We are enclosing a sheet of suggestions for window displays, giving the facts and figures which should be brought out in the windows. Will you please put in the best window possible If the posters are not delivered to you in good season, please call on the Local Merchant Representative or the County Food Administrator for copies of the poster. They are going forward to your County Administrator for distribution.

We are also enclosing a sheet of suggestions for advertisements. These are all good, except that the reference to winning the war should be cut out where it occurs. Otherwise the facts are right, and the situation is just as serious as it was before the armistice. We know that we may count upon you. We shall be anxious to hear that your window was used for this patriotic work during Thanksgiving Week.

Very truly yours,
U. S. Food Administration
Retail Stores Section,
E. W. Weelock,
Assistant State Merchant Representative.

RAILROADS ASK FOR RETURN OF STEEL PASSENGER COACHES

Old Style Wooden Type Now In Use On All Local Trains

STEEL CARS ON OTHER ROADS

Vigorous protests have been filed by superintendents of railroad divisions at Pittsburgh about the kind of equipment they are being furnished to maintain their passenger service. Wooden cars abound in this district, where before nothing but the best steel coaches were used, not only on through trains, but on suburban locals as well. These steel cars, under Federal control, have steadily been taken away from the home roads, it is said, and few of them get back being used in other parts of the country. Local officials want their cars returned with the near approach of holiday traffic. On numerous local trains of late nothing but wooden coaches have been used. Some of these cars are so out of date that the old style oil lamp lighting system has to be used on non-daylight runs.

Passengers traversing the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, have noted this change and remarked about it on more than one occasion. The local trains are supplied with coaches which the Pennsylvania system discarded several years ago, when the new steel cars were introduced. Local travelers have often wondered where the steel coaches were sent to, and have remarked that contributions of a like character were not received from other roads. All local passenger trains are using either Pennsylvania or Pennsylvania Lines coaches of the wooden type, many of them quite antiquated, but none of them up to the standard of the steel coach. Railroad travelers along the Pennsylvania system are wishing for the return of the more commodious carriers, just the same as the officials are.

REPORT FROM THE EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

Mr. Dorbritz, who was a member of the Home Defense Police of Charleroi and who while serving as one of the guards at the emergency hospital, it is thought, contracted the disease while in the performance of his duty, he was born in June 30, 1872, in Germany and after coming to this country became [illegible] time in Pittsburg, moving to Charleroi about the time the town was founded.

For the past 28 years he has been a trusted and efficient employe of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, and held a position as foreman for the company.

He was united in marriage December 20, 1893, with Zetta Maud Corey, and next month would have celebrated with Mrs. Dorbritz his silver wedding anniversary.

In politics Mr. Dorbritz was a Republican and was actively interested in politics.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Isabel E. Dorbritz, an employe of the Mail Publishing Company and Ernest O. Dorbritz, a junior at Washington and Jefferson College, a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity and who also holds a position on the editorial force of the Washington Observer; a sister living in Fallowfield township, and a sister and brother and his stepmother living in New Kensington.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN DECEMBER 2ND

Superintendent Pollock announced this morning that no public schools sessions would be held next week. This action is taken because it is not considered advisable to open on Monday prior to the Thanksgiving vacation, which would begin Thursday morning for a two-day period. Prof. Pollock expects however, to be able to open the schools on Monday morning, December 2nd, at which time it is hoped the need for the emergency hospital now in the high school will have passed.

BIG INCREASE IN INFLUENZA CASES

New influenza cases took a spurt in Charleroi on Friday and this morning, from returns received at the Mail office, there are between 55 and 60 people added to the list who are suffering from this malady. This is practically an increase of 100 per cent in twenty-four hours, this increase not coming from any particular locality, but being scattered all over the town. Physicians were quite hopeful on Thursday that the malady had passed the senith, but the reports of Friday show that it has not got loosened its hold on our people. The reports indicate that the individual must use every precaution against the malady, as all the danger has not yet passed. The treatment to be given at the War Chest rooms Sunday and Monday should be taken advantage of, in order to prevent any further spread of the disease.

Notice, Firemen.

Members of the Charleroi Volunteer Fire Department are requested to meet at the headquarters, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, to attend the funeral services of Otto Dorbritz. J. Clark, President.

TAKING THE CABLES

As yet the country has not been favored with an explanation of the action of the Washington authorities in taking control of the cable service at a time when fighting had ceased and peace is only a matter of agreement among the rulers. A first natural suspicion was that somebody in authority had in mind exercising a censorship over cabled matters during the peace negotiations period, but we are assured that censorship is a thing of the past. Accepting that assurance at full value, the natural suspician next on the list is that this sudden, though belated, move represents a desire on the part of the administration to get into the government's tentacles all possible instrumentalities of communication and of commerce, with a look ahead to government ownership.

It may be that the action of the Washington authorities was inspired by something else, but in the absence of information it is inevitable that the people should suspect one of the other of the two purposes indicated. If the cables had been taken over at the time the United States became a belligerent there would have been no questioning the propriety of the step, although after events have shown that nothing would have been gained thereby. It is manifest that government operation would in no wise have bettered the cable service to the public. There has been no complaint of the service rendered the government which, it is understood, has had at all times the right of way, and certainly that special circuit arranged by the Commercial Cable Company for the convenience of the President—by which communication from the White House with the American Embassy in Paris is made almost instantaneous—marks the high water mark of service.

Leaving out of consideration the certainty born of experience that government operation would be more costly and less efficient than private operation and that government operation would almost certainly be a money loss to be borne by the people and assuming that the government has no desire of exercising control over the cable lines for purpose of censorship, the reason for the action of the President and the Postmaster General remains a mystery.

Is there a ge'man of saffron hue hiding somewhere in the woodpile—New York Herald.

AS TO A "RED TERROR"

Former Ambassador Gerard repeats his prediction of such a bloody upheaval in Germany as will "make the French Revolution look like a Sunday school picnic," on the ground that the German soldiers have not only been brutalized by a long war but from the outset were taught to be cruel in waging war and that the German masses, so long "kept down," would indulge in startling acts of savagery. Ex-President Taft and other observers have likewise predicted violent reaction by the German proletariat and "the despotism of the mob." Unconfirmed rumors have already indicated the actual beginning of a reign of terror, and the outside world is prepared for the worst.

There are good reasons for the hope however, that the disturbances in revoluntionary Germany will be less sanguinary than many expect. The chief of these are that the returning German soldiers are already satiated of blood and that the masses of the people, enforced privation, are clamoring for peace at home as well as abroad. The French Revolution followed generations of wrong but was not preceded by a long and exhausting war. This striking difference is likely to cause different [illegible] with millions dead, other millions crippled, maimed and suffering from wounds in their midst, the Germans can hardly have much eager stomach for carnage left. Unless they are mad indeed they hardly seem likely to kill each other to any great extent after the prodigious bloodletting which they have suffered at the hands of the nations they attacked, particularly in view of the enormous burden of taxes which they know that the peace terms will place upon them all.

PROPAGANDA INVESTIGATION

We have not heard the last of Germany's spy system and persistent propaganda. The fact that the war is over tends to reopen rather than to close the subject, the danger of revealing important military or civil secrets being thus removed. According to the dispatches, the inquiry into the ownership of the Washington Times is to be so extended in scope that it will involve turning the searchlight on every phase of German propaganda before and during the war. The Attorney-General is said to be ready to turn over to Senator Overman "bales" of evidence of the workings of the Berlin system in the United States, much of it being information that hitherto could not safely be made public. That names will be mentioned that were formerly withheld, and that trouble awaits those who bear them, goes without saying.

The object is to lay bare "every trick and dodge and turn" employed by the former kaiser's agents to poison American public opinion, so that "the seed of foreign propaganda of any sort can not again be sown successfully" in this great country. Obviously the need of such a clean-up is great. Resident foreigners and men who have become naturalized with purely selfish or dishonest purpose in view need to be taught with the assistance of the correcting rod that this is a nation like any other, and not a mere collection of money-making foreign nationals who may feel free upon occasion to attempt to make the United States a mere tail to some imperial European kite. Recent history has taught the foreign elements in this country valuable lessons but they need to be enlightened still further.

Dear old Marshall Joffre, the great hero of the first Marne, whom millions of American civilians are glad to have been privileged to see, says he loves the American soldiers as though they were his own—and that he is proud to have been the godfather of the noble American army which was the determining cause of our actual victory."

In a tribute to American fighters the London Morning Post says that, though nobody in ngland had fears the most confident expectations have been surpassed. "Newly trained American troops have faced and overcome the pick of the German legions. The cost doubtless has been heavy, but the result is amazing."

TIE SCORE AT FOOTBALL GAME

The football game at the local park, Friday afternoon between Charleroi and Monongahela High school teams, resulted in a tie score, although the greater portion of the playing was in Monongahela territory. The grounds were in fairly good condition, although the crowd in attendance was not very large, owing possibly to the cold weather as well as the general prevalence of the influenza. Both teams had but little practice during the past six weeks owing to the quarantine and they showed the effects of their idleness in their play.

JOE THOMPSON IS MADE LIEUTENANT COLONEL

Former State Senator Joseph H. Thompson, of Beaver Falls, and who served throughout the war as a Major of the 110th Infantry, has been promoted to Lieuterant Colonel for bravery in the Argonne forest fighting. This information reveals the fact that the 110th, and in all probability the balance of the Twenty-eighth Division, took part in the severe fighting in the Argonne, which cost so many American lives. Col Thompson has always been a popular officer with the regiment, and his promotion is looked upon as a deserved one.

MEAT PRODUCERS DID FULL DUTY

Increase in American Hogs Will Help to Meet World Fat Shortage.

FARMERS SAVE SITUATION.

Government Justified in Stimulation of Pork Production—Sevenfold Increase Over Pre-War Exports.

Through increased production and conservation we will be able this year to export seven times our pre-war average exports of pork products. With the heavy demands added in caring for the millions who have been freed from German oppression, the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration are justified today in our every action of stimulation of hog production. In the coming year the greatest world shortage will be in fats, and pork will help to save this situation. The efficacy of the policy of stimulated production has built up in this country supplies which will enable us to supply a very large part of the fat deficiency of the world. In beef there must be a shortage in Europe, due largely to limited refrigerator ship capacity. All freezer ships available, however, will be filled by America, Argentine and Australia.

The contribution made by the producers of this country to the war program as applying particularly to animal food products is illustrated by the following:

Reports compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate an increase in cattle of 10,298,000 head and 12,441,000 hogs. These figures were compiled to January 1 last.

In this period there was a decrease in sheep of 819,000 head. The indications are that this decrease will show an increase, according to recent reports.

Since January 1 unofficial information indicates an increase in hogs of not less than 8 per cent and not more than 15 per cent as compared with one year ago, with an increase in the average weight.

Following the request of the U. S. Food Administration for an increase in hog production for marketing in the fall of 1918 and the spring of 1919 the increase may yield not less than 1,000,000,000 pounds more of pork products than were available last year. Without this increase the shipping program arranged by Mr. Hoover regarding animal food products would have been impossible.

The dressed hog products during the three months ending September 30, 1917, amounted to 903,172,000 pounds, while for the corresponding months of 1918 the dressed hog products totaled 1,277,589,000, an increase of over 374,000,000 pounds for the quarter.

During the same period for 1917 the records of inspected slaughter of dressed beef showed 1,263,000,000 pounds as against 1,434,000,000 pounds for the three month period ending September 1, this year.

America's Pledge of Food Gave Heart to the Allies In Their Darkest Hour

Whatever is necessary America will send. That was America's pledge to the interallied food council. And because the American food army had hitherto made good they took heart and went forward.

Farm enterprise and much soft corn increased pork supplies, food conservation increased exports—total shipments doubled.

FAITH JUSTIFIED BY EVENTS.

I do not believe that drastic force need be applied to maintain economic distribution and sane use of supplies by the great majority of American people, and I have learned a deep and abiding faith in the intelligence of the average American business man, whose aid we anticipate and depend on to remedy the evils developed by the war.—Herbert Hoover, August 10, 1917.

SUGAR SHOWED OUR BACKBONE

American Willingness to Give Up Luxury Demonstrated Nation's War Conscience.

STAND WITH THE ALLIES.

By Reducing Consumption People of the United States Averted a Famine at Home in Spite of Low Supplies.

The fact that the people of the United States were able to reduce by more than one-half million tons their July, August, September and October consumption of sugar proves conclusively that their war conscience was thoroughly awakened and that the country as a whole stood ready to follow the injunctions of the Government.

Our normal consumption of sugar in the four-month period beginning with July has been 400,000 tons per month, a total of 1,600,000 for the quarter year.

In July, when our sugar stringency began to reach its height, consumption was reduced to 260,000 tons. In August only 325,000 tons went into distribution and in September only 279,000 tons. In October the distribution fell to 230,000 tons.

If the general public had failed to observe the injunctions of the Food Administration this country would have been in the throes of a sugar famine before the end of August. Our visible supplies were so low as to bring great anxiety to those familiar with the sugar situation. They feared that it would be absolutely impossible to reduce consumption to a point where sugar would no longer be a mere luxury in the American diet.

Few accomplishments of the Food Administration will stand forth so predominantly as this reduced consumption of sugar. By it we have been able to bridge over the period of stringency until the new beet and Louisiana cane sugar crops were in sight.

Now the nation is in a position so that if we choose we may return to our normal home use of sugar, and Europe, with the release of ships to go far afield, can maintain its recent restricted rations. If however, those nations are to increase their use of sugar very considerably it must be by our continued sharing with them through limiting our own consumption.

AMERICAN SPIRIT RELIED ON TO WIN.

In the light of succeeding events it is interesting to recall the confidence with which the United States Food Administrator viewed the gloomy outlook in July of 1917, when this country had been in the war for less than four months and the Germans were steadily sending the western front nearer and nearer to Paris.

"Even though the situation in Europe may be gloomy today," he declared in a public statement, "no American who has knowledge of the results already obtained in every direction need have one atom of fear that democracy will not defend itself in these United States."

LOYALTY IN LITTLE THINGS LAST PROOF OF PATRIOTISM

Americans without murmuring cut their sugar allowance from four pounds a month to three and then as long as need be to two pounds for loyalty's sake.

Food Will Win the World.

America earned the gratitude of allied nations during war by sharing food. America under peace may win the world's good will by saving to share.

DEMOCRACY VS. AUTOCRACY.

"There is no royal road to food conservation. We can only accomplish this by the voluntary action of our whole people, each element in proportion to its needs. It is a matter of equality of burden."

The truth of this statement, made by the United States Food Administrator soon after we entered the war, has been borne out by the history of our exports. Autocratic food control in the lands of our enemies has broken down, while democratic food sharing has maintained the health and strength of this country and of the Allies.

Plenty More Like This in Charleroi

Scores of Charleroi can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of this kind—what better proof of merit can we add than such endorsement?

F. B. Parker says: "For twenty-five years, I had pleuro attacks and at times I was unable to work. The trouble started with pains in my hips, and extended into my left limb. I was so bad off at one time that I couldn't work. I heard of a man who had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got them at Lange's Pharmacy. They gave me relief in four days and continued use made me better. I am now feeling fine and I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine on the market."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Parker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Influenza, Cold, Pneumonia, Sore Throat

Yields Quickly to Antiseptic Treatment

Many are finding relief from influenza Colds Sore Throat and perhaps preventing Pneumonia, it is said, by the use of Miller's Antiseptic Oil, (known as Snake Oil). Its great penetrating, pain-relieving qualities insure almost instant relief when applied freely on the chest or throat, well greased when first symptoms arise. The Oil penetrates through to the affected parts and tends to open up the air passages, making breathing more easy, relieving the pains. And for the cough a few drops on a little sugar usually brings prompt relief. Don't fail to have a bottle on hand when the attack comes on, and if used according to directions results are assured, or your money refunded. On sale at Piper's Drug Store, 30c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. Adv.

THE RIGHT WAY
The secret of success in shopping lies in being able to look at the garment before you pay for it. You not only look at it. You try it on. You have the chance to try on several. If one does not suit, another will. If alterations are needed, the fitting can be done on the spot. There may be other ways to shop. But this is the only right way. This is the "trade-at-home" way. And it brings not only success to you, but adds prosperity to your town as well. Every purchase you make in this way creates a permanent value in your community, apart from the value and pleasure you get out of it. And you become a community builder. Then why shop any other way. Keep this picture in mind and you will not fail in your duty to yourself and your town.
